A literature list compiled by Sacha Kagan on the arts, culture and sustainability

Of course not fully exhaustive (several fields are represented by only one or two exemplary works), and some included works may be at the ‘borderline’ of the subject area...

Please contact me if a relevant work of yours is missing (it should be a work that deals with art and sustainability, or be directly relevant to the arts while focusing more widely on culture and/or creativity).

1) On Art & Sustainability

[See also the other contributions in this journal issue.]

Grigoleit, A., Hahn, J., & Brocchi, D. (2013). “»And in the end my street will not be the same«. The art project 2–3 Streets and its link to (un)sustainability, creative urban development and modernization”. City, Culture and Society, 4 (3), 173-185.

[NB: The Plastik/Uni-Sorbonne website unfortunately erased meanwhile the English versions of articles written in both languages, keeping only the French versions online; the English version is available here now:

2) On Culture, Creativity & Sustainability

This list = literature that does not focus only on the arts, but more generally on cultural practices, including the arts.
